Weekly Program Highlights

BEYOND BENTIU RESPONSE (BBR) SHOW: Youth receive support to start small businesses

Responding to feedback gathered by Internews and shared with various organizations, Humane AID for Community Organization (HACO), supported 150 members of the community with startup kits for businesses. The HR manager HACO said the aim of the distribution was to encourage the youths to develop in the right direction and prevent them from engaging in criminality. He added that the distribution included food items, furniture and sanitary items. He said that the recipient groups are 15 in number. KONDIAL FM spoke to some of the beneficiaries during the distribution who expressed their happiness with what HACO did for those yearning to start businesses and thanked them for responding to their requests. ●

HEALTH SHOW: Persons suffering from cleft lips to undergo free surgery

Cases of cleft lips usually leave parents and guardians feeling hopeless. To alleviate the problem of children born with the deformity, the World Health Organization and Health Pooled Fund Organization will carry out operations to correct the condition. The WHO and HPFO, while appearing on Kondial FM, called on people with persons suffering from cleft lips to register with Bentiu town Teaching Hospital in preparation for free surgery which will be conducted by Samaritan Purse and the Juba Teaching Hospital from April 7 to 12 2019. Callers on Kondial FM expressed happiness about the free offer and promised to share the information with the rest of the community. ●

WOMEN SHOW: Parents encouraged to send girls to school

To shed more light on the issue of girls dropping out of school, members of the Parents Teachers Association appeared on Kondial FM to discuss ways of handling the problem. On the talk show, they focused on early pregnancies, loading girls with a lot of domestic chores and responsibilities, forced marriages and parents who deny their daughters a chance for education due to the belief that girls are sources of income for families. Some callers on the show encouraged girls to embrace education. ●

EVENING SHOW: Community sensitized to take care of biometric cards

Due to cases of lost or damaged biometric cards, IOM-CCCM sensitized the Bentiu PoC community on how to take care of their cards. The IOM-CCCM assistance officer urged the community to safely keep their ration cards to avoid loss or damage. He encouraged all community leaders to engage with the Community Liaison Committee, Community Disability Committee, trade Unions and women groups and report their concerns to IOM-Communication centers. In addition, the IOM-CCCM assistance officer requested all drivers to observe the 20 kilometers per hour speed limit to avoid accidents in Bentiu PoC. ●

What We Heard This Week

Feedback from the Community

Disapproval of skirts and shorts for girls

Parents in Pamir camp said they want agency in charge of education to change the current school uniform. They said the skirts and shorts are inappropriate to some cultures and beliefs among the refugees. Consequently, this situation if not corrected, could force some parents not to allow their adolescent girls to go to schools.

Adults, block 3, Pamir

Refugees cannot afford paying 4,000 SSP for poles

A number of people told us during a listening group meeting that when they go to collect poles for construction of shelters they are asked to pay 4,000 SSP by the forest authorities. They want to know if the concerned agencies can help them find solution to this unresolved issue. The affected persons said humanitarian agencies are not providing tents yet they do not have money to pay the authorities for the poles.

Adults, Pamir

Let the elderly receive food first

Elderly in Pamir reported to us that they are not happy to lineup with youth and able persons when collecting food ratio. They wish the concerned agencies give them priority during food distribution and help to transport the food to their shelters.

Adults, block 3, Pamir

What is the truth?

People in Ajuong Thok told us that they are worried about the rumors going around in the camp that there will be no adult education classes this year. They want the concerned agencies to confirm or deny the rumors.

Adults, block 4, Ajuong Thok

Security situation has improved, thanks to police presence

We have heard from refugees in Ajuong Thok that the security situation east of the camp where goat theft used to take place, has improved. They attributed the positive change to the opening of a police post in the area. They encourage UNHCR and the local government to keep supporting the police so that they don't abandon their position.

Football for young people to engage in sports

During a listening group session in Pamir, youth told us that they lack sport kit for football and basketball games. They said some humanitarian agencies promised to provide the required sport equipment but they are still waiting for the response.

Youth, block 17, Pamir

Jamjang FM host health workers to address community concerns about acute water diarrhea in the camps.

Students want fitting uniforms

Students from Kandakha primary school in Pamir want education partners to give students uniforms based on size of the person because last year some received smaller or bigger size uniforms.

Jamjang 89.4 FM

Weekly Program Highlights

Health Program: Diarrhea cases among children worrying parents in the camp

Ajuong Thok and Pamir camps have witnessed cases of acute water diarrhea among children. To response to parents concerns, Jamjang FM invited health partners to the studio to raise awareness of the parents about treatment and prevention from diarrhea. Guests from IRC who is running health services in Pamir and AHA who provides health services in Ajuong Thok camp were hosted in a live program. The health workers explained that diarrhea is often caused by contaminated water, contaminated food, in addition to unclean hands. They urged the community to practice hygienic behaviors like washing of hands before preparing food as well as before eating and after using toilets. The guests emphasized that adherence to hygienic practices at homes and in the neighborhoods is crucial to avoid diarrhea. Covering food and water keep people healthy. They told mothers to clean their breast before breastfeed their children. One of the guests concluded by saying, "mother hygiene is effective to a child health". ●

Music show program: Artist from Pamir camp educate people about HIV/AIDs through songs

In this week music show program, Jamjang FM hosted an artist from Pamir camp. The famous songwriter and singer from the refugee community has shown interest in educating and raising awareness about HIV/AIDs in the camps through songs. The artist explained on Jamjang FM the purpose of composing a song about HIV/AIDs is to sensitize the youth about the risk of this deadly disease and to encourage the youth to abstain from the random and illegitimate sexual intercourse to avoid getting the disease. Beside song about AIDs, he also sang a song about education for the refugee children. Jamjang FM will continue to record songs to raise awareness on various topics like water management, hygiene and gender-based violence with the artist in the weeks to come. ●

With refugee program: Lead farmers get appreciation for successful agricultural season

Jamjang FM was invited by IRC's economic recovery and development department to provide coverage for an event to recognize the achievement of the lead farmers and the peaceful coexistence committee between refugees and host community. The lead farmers from the refugee community of Pamir and Ajuong Thok said they are happy with colleagues from host community who worked with them to make last farming season successful. UNHCR representative said on Jamjang FM that refugees should embark more on farming and not rely only on food assistance provided every month. "The best way to fight hunger and improve your living standards is to farm". CRA representative recognized the contribution of the host community who is allowing refugees to use the land for farming. He urged refugees to exploit the opportunity and improve their lives. ●

What We Heard This Week

Feedback from the Community

Pupils and students need uniforms

Students and pupils are urging the education cluster partners to procure for them uniforms because some parents are not in position to do so. They are worried because students are not allowed to attend classes without school uniform. They also added that they lack the necessary educational material to help with their studies.

Students and pupils, PoC 3

Cholera and other food diseases

Some members of the community at the UN House POC are urging parents and the entire community to take good care of their children. They say that majority of the children buy mangoes and eat without first washing them. They are worried about diseases that might result from eating contaminated food.

Residents of, PoC 1, Block I

Football field fights

Following the conflict at the playground last year, UN House PoC 3 elders want to know who should take responsibility if tensions break out among the youth now that the zonal league is underway.

Elders, PoC 3

Distribute mosquito nets

A group of community members are requesting humanitarians to distribute mosquito nets because there is an increase in cases of malaria. They are concerned because although it is currently dry season, mosquito are breeding a lot. They are worried that it will result in an increase of diseases.

Listening Group, PoC 3, zone A

Food shortage

A group of community members said that they are experiencing food shortage following a reduction in food rations last year. They are saying that some families receiving relatives who decided to visit as a result of the peace agreement are suffering from lesser quantities compared to the last intended periods. They are requesting for an increase in food rations.

Boda Boda Talk Talk

Weekly Program Highlights

Illegal structure blocking roads in POC 3

In an interview with BBTT, the deputy camp chairman of PoCs 3 said that it is the responsibility of all traders who have structures close to the main road to remove them. The illegal structures are narrowing the roads and making it difficult for the humanitarian agencies and UN to deliver services. UNMISS RRP has given the community two weeks to remove them before they are forcefully brought down. ●

Inter-zonal tournament at UN house PoC 3

In an interview with BBTT, WHITAKER said games can promote peace, love, dignity and unity among the youth. They said they will provide uniform and shoes to the teams for the upcoming zonal competition. "We have prepared 11 pairs of shoes per team. I am asking sport organizing committee to promote peace through sports". ●

Children games at schools

BBTT interviewed the head teacher of Hope primary school on the issue of games in schools during free times. The head teacher said children need sport material to be used in the schools. He added that one of the cause for children to play in the roads side is the lack of game activities in the schools. ●

Job opportunities and recruitment criteria

In our previous feedback, we received complaints on the recruitment criteria used in the POCs. To answer this, BBTT interviewed CCCM site manager who said they have not received complaints on illegal recruitments within the partners working in the POCs. He said all partners recruiting for positions advertise the offers and perform shortlisting interviews. ●

Dangers of explosives at the weapon free zone

Previously the community express concerns of safety around the weapon free zone. To answer this

BBTT interviewed Community Watch Group chief for operations who said that the general community should be aware of the dangers as there was a UXO found around the area. He said children are strictly not allowed to go to the area as well as the community at large since it is a serious security threat. ●

Food hygiene at the PoCs local markets

In our feedback last week, some members on the community in POC 1 said women are selling food in unsafe places. In response to this we interviewed Nile Hope hygiene and sanitation team leader in PoC 1. He said the community should take hygiene as a priority as this may affect them if they don't keep their food safely. "We have done several sessions to make sure that business women cover food so that flies don't contaminate the food sold". RRP and ACTED are working to providing some space for business activities like restaurants. ●

What We Heard This Week

Feedback from the Community

More doctors needed at clinic

The community said that the number of doctors per patient at the medical facility is not enough. They are requesting the responsible agency to increase the number of doctors to avoid congestion and also enable community members to access faster medical attention.

Youth & Adults, PoC Sector 1 & 3 ●

Sensitization on early pregnancies

Members of the community said the number of pregnant girls has increased and attributed it to lack of awareness. They are requesting humanitarians to conduct sensitization to address the problem.

Adults, PoC sector 1, 2, 3 & 4 ●

No more water stagnation

Residents appreciated IOM WASH for the repairs done on the bathrooms. They said that it will enable the water to flow out of their bathrooms easily. They added that the installed pipes will help remove stagnant water and direct it into the main drainages.

Youths & Adults, Sector 1 Block H ●

Coordinate with community leaders for harmony

Residents said camp management should liaise with the community members and community leadership before deciding on which illegal structures should be demolished. Coordination of any demolition with the concerned people will help to avoid conflict.

Youths & Adults, PoC sector 3 & 4 ●

Grant space for local court

Residents said they lack space to hold local court sessions. They said that they are currently utilizing the Community Watch Group (CWG) center to carry out their activities and meetings. They are requesting the relevant agencies to set up space for them to avoid interfering with the work of the CWG.

Water collectors need training in sanitation

Residents decried the habit of people leaving jerry cans and water containers unattended and exposed at water points during night. They said that at times dogs get in contact with the containers which could lead to contamination and disease. They requested WASH department to create awareness so they can take good care of jerry cans and avoid disease.

Nile 98.0 FM

Weekly Program Highlights

Health program: Cholera causes, symptoms, prevention awareness

Nile FM hosted a World Health Organization (WHO) doctor on the health program to raise awareness on Cholera. The doctor said that the disease is caused by a bacteria carried by flies from human feces leading to vomiting and diarrhea and that it affects all age groups. He added that people can prevent cholera by washing their hands after using the latrines and before eating food. The doctor urged parents to always wash their children's hands before eating any food and urged the community members to keep their environment clean. ●

Peace and reconciliation program: the role of women in participating in social peace

A Nile FM female program producer mobilized women to get their inputs on how they can play a role in improving social peace. On the show, one of the woman said that they have a big role to play in strengthening peaceful co-existence when given a chance to participate in dialogue on peace related issues. Other women said that people should be ready to accept their mistakes and embrace reconciliation by forgetting their past. A community member advised people to avoid envy and hatred so they can learn to embrace peace. He added also that community should change their old beliefs that confines women to the kitchen. ●

Business program: Involving school children into mobile business during school hours

When humanitarian schools closed for school vacation, many children engaged in mobile business activities to earn some income to support their families. Nile FM business program producer talked to community members and traders on how the school children can conduct business after school. A community member suggested that school children should continue doing business if it

Protection program: ways of preventing mosquitoes breeding

Nile FM invited Mentor Initiative's protection assistant officer to the protection radio programme to explain what the next step would be after the spraying of drainages in the PoC. The officer said that they have conducted a house-to-house awareness to educate families on how stop mosquitoes breeding. The protection assistant officer advised families to cover the drinking water containers so mosquitoes could not breed on them. He added that families should always clean their environment on daily basis and open the drainages to allow bathing water to flow out of the PoC. ●

AND CAMP MANAGEMENT
CLUSTER

General Program Highlights

Tasks for elected women leadership in CLC

Wau BBTT produced a programme on women representative in CLC. The programme explains the newly elected leader's role and her future plans on improving the wellbeing of women and young children in the camp. She narrated some key challenges faced by women and young children in the camp mentioning that going to the latrine at night is dangerous because groups of youth used to sit around women latrines during night time. She added that together with UNPOL, CLC managed to contain the situation. She elaborated on the needs for women to receive training on livelihood skills. She summarized by strongly urging the women in the camp to focus on child management and commented that all parents understand that child protection is not an individual responsibility but a collective one. She ended saying that children are the future and parent should prioritize education. ●

Roles for newly elected youth representative

Based on feedback from the community in regards to youths' role in the camp, Wau BBTT team produced a program on youth representative in CLC. The programme gave voice to the youth representative who clarified how he wants to coordinate with camp management to discuss some of the crucial issues related to youth especially youth engagement in sport. He mentioned tournament for both male and female. He assured the youth that the selection will be done in the meeting to insure transparency. In a nutshell, the youths appealed to all the youth to cooperate with CLC for their voices will be heard by partners and concerned authorities. Lastly, the youth representatives have strongly urged the community in the camp not to indulge in crime related activities. ●
